

Biography

Soraya LASRAM

obtained her Master's Degree in Combined languages (Arabic, French, English and Spanish) from the University of Tunis.

She started her career at the Tunisian Academy of Sciences, Letters and Arts "Bait al-Hekma" (House of Wisdom). She first worked as an executive in the Publications department. Then she was promoted to Head of the Department of Distribution, afterwards to Deputy Director of Publications.

From 2000 to 2005 she was appointed as Director of the Distribution and Communication departments. . She was also in charge of the implementation of the translation project that culminated in the publication of various books in the series "Views on Western Thoughts in the 2nd half of the 20th century". In 2005, she was promoted to General Director of Distribution and Communication leading to her appointment Chief Executive Officer and General coordinator of the scientific council of the Academy.