

Biography

Faten CHOUBA SKHIRI is a Tunisian visual artist. Full Professor in higher institute of fine arts of Sousse (Tunisia). PH. D in plastic arts from the University of Paris I- Sorbonne in France (1999). Lecturer in Arts since 2011.

She was a Director of studies and trainings at the Higher Institute of Fine Arts of Sousse since 2010 to 2017.

She was the founder and the director of the Higher Institute of the Crafts of Fashion design of Monastir for 8 years (2002-2010).

She has published a book entitled “Penser plastique et pratiques artistiques contemporaines” in 1111.

She has edited and prefaced the seminar acts entitled “Eau, art et nouvelles technologies” in 2013.

Many personal articles are published in different collective work and specialized review.

She has actively undertaken multiple personal and collective exhibitions that took place in Tunisia and abroad.

She has also organized many conferences and meetings dealing with debatable themes at the heart of Contemporary Arts and the Arts of New technologies.

She was the founder and director of the first edition of the Carthage Contemporary Art Days (JACC) in 2018, organized by the Tunisian Ministry of Cultural.

She is a member of the Tunisian Academy of sciences letters and arts “Beit al-Hikma”.